Port of Bundaberg transfer to Gladstone Ports Corporation

This morning the Premier Anna Bligh announced the public ownership of the Port of Bundaberg would be transferred to the Gladstone Ports Corporation (GPC).

Ms Bligh made the statement as part of her 'Our renewing Queensland Plan' address to Parliament outlining the proposed sale of government assets as part of this year's budget plan.

GPC Chairman Ian Brusasco said he had no detail about the proposed transfer so could not comment at this stage.

Mr Brusasco said the GPC had not been involved in the process.

"And at this stage we are yet to understand the Port of Bundaberg business and the issues and benefits it will bring to the Bundaberg and Greater Central Queensland region.

"However, we will work with Government to achieve their objectives" he stated.
